SHORT BIO: Dmitry Dzukaev is a leading spinal neurosurgeon of Moscow. Doctor Dzukaev is a head of the Moscow Centre for Surgery of spinal degenerative diseases and severe spine and spinal cord injuries. He was among the first surgeons in Moscow to use modern instrumentation in spinal surgery, allowing patients a rapid return to active everyday life. He held internships in leading hospitals in France, Switzerland, and Australia. Dr. Dzukaev teaches international courses on spine surgery in Davos (Switzerland). He has been developing new surgical approaches to treat the various degenerative spinal diseases, including disc herniation, and spinal cord injuries.