These are dogs.

They come in all shapes and sizes.

All colors and markings.

While they share the same basic instincts,

There's no denying their individuality.

Some choose to lead.

Others follow.

They are young dogs.

They are old dogs.

And we've got something to learn from each and every one of them.

These are shelter dogs and they are the very heart of The Mutt-i-gree's Curriculum, an innovative program that bridges

social and emotional learning with humane education to teach vital classroom lessons on compassion, diversity, tolerance and empathy.

In schools, we learn math and science, we learn to read and write,

but we don't formally learn to care… Until now.

The Mutt-i-gree's Curriculum leads change by using children's innate love for animals to teach a very simple lesson:

give love

and you shall receive love.

Your child can be part of The Mutt-i-grees Curriculum-
