British Television Personality Amanda de Cadenet's Popular Interview Series Returns on L/Studio

"The Conversation with Amanda de Cadenet" joins Lexus broadband channel

TORRANCE, Calif. (June 4, 2013)—L/Studio, the Lexus-owned broadband channel that has delivered award-winning entertainment including "Web Therapy" and "Puppy Love," has partnered with British television personality, actress and photographer Amanda de Cadenet to bring the alternative interview series, "The Conversation with Amanda de Cadenet," to its viewers.

The Web series, which features strikingly frank discussions with some of Hollywood's most dynamic women, premiered on April 17 and will have a total of 12 episodes that air weekly. Presenting an authentic and raw view of issues affecting women today, each episode features in-depth interviews with some of the most famous and influential women in pop culture, including Zoe Saldana, Chelsea Handler, Whitney Cummings, Busy Philipps and Jaime King.

"I encourage my guests to speak honestly about everything from sex, love, children and money to divorce and depression – topics we can relate to," said de Cadenet. "Our talks can be funny, sad, daring and sometimes shocking, but most importantly, they are real. I look forward to continuing to entertain and inspire viewers with this series."

Instead of the usual guarded talk show interviews seen on TV, these uncensored chats result in de Cadenet's guests sharing authentic stories. These include actress Milla Jovovich disclosing that her Russian movie star mother also scrubbed toilets for the rich and famous, and Chelsea Handler opening up about not seeing children in her future.

"Amanda is a warm and engaging interviewer who brings a refreshing take on celebrity interviews," said Brian Smith, vice president of marketing for Lexus. "We see L/Studio as a place for artists to experiment with their talent. Here, Amanda has the freedom to express herself and help the audience see a completely different side of her guests."
