

Lynn D. Kramer MD, FAAN

Lynn Kramer, Chief Clinical Officer, Eisai Co. Ltd. and President of the Neuroscience & General Medicine Product Creation Unit

Lynn D. Kramer, MD, has served as president of the Neuroscience & General Medicine Product Creation Unit since its inception in 2009. In this role, he oversees the full product creation cycle from discovery through regulatory approval of innovative projects in the neuroscience area.

Dr. Kramer, who has been with Eisai since 2007, started as the executive vice president of Global Clinical Research, and was soon promoted to the additional role of COO of Eisai Medical Research. In early 2009, he was named president of the Scientific and Operational Clinical Support Core Function Unit (SOCS CFU), a position he held in addition to his current role until mid-2010. Most recently he was named Chief Clinical Officer and a member of the Executive Committee, Eisai Company, Ltd.

Prior to joining Eisai, Dr. Kramer oversaw clinical development, pharmacovigilance, drug safety and medical affairs for PAR Pharmaceutical, Inc. Earlier in his career, he held clinical research positions in a variety of therapeutic areas at Purdue Pharmaceuticals, Novartis, the R.W. Johnson Pharmaceutical Research Institute and Carter-Wallace, Inc.

Dr. Kramer is a Fellow of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology (1987) and the Philadelphia College of Physicians (1987). He currently serves as the industry representative on the Peripheral and Central Nervous System Drugs Advisory Committee of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and on the Board of Directors at American Society for Experimental Neuro Therapeutics (ASENT).

Dr. Kramer received his MD from Hahnemann Medical College. He completed his internship in internal medicine at the University of California at Irvine, and his residency in neurology at the University of Virginia. He also holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Lycoming College, where he has since been named to the Executive Committee of Board of Trustees.