

About Automotive Distributors' Association (ODD)

The Automotive Distributors' Association, established in 1987 by 10 businessmen/executive entrepreneurs representing 5 companies which were Turkish agents of European automobile brands, has 31 members representing 48 international brands as of 2015. ODD carries out activities in line with its mission in a way to assist the sector's development. Activities of the Association include the generation of statistics and sharing these with the related institutions and members; making advisory contributions to public institutions in work concerning laws and regulations; and giving support to automotive fairs. As of 2006, Istanbul Autoshow Fair has been included in the International Fairs calendar of OICA with the efforts of the Association, which recognizes the benefit of fairs in publicizing the automotive sector to large masses, and aims at the continuous development of the sector.

www.odd.org.tr