

Executive Biographies

Henry N. Tuttle

President and Board Chair, CNECT

Chief Executive Officer, Health Center Partners of Southern California

Henry N. Tuttle brings more than 30 years of transformative leadership experience to his role as board chair of CNECT and CEO of CNECT's parent company, Health Center Partners of Southern California. He previously served as CEO of Manet Community Health Center in Quincy, MA, during which time operating revenues increased by 39 percent, the employee base grew by 60 percent and the organization enrolled over 15,000 residents into health insurance coverage.

Tuttle serves on various boards and committees including San Diego Health Connect Board of Directors, the Health Services Advisory Board for San Diego County and the Healthy San Diego Joint Consumer & Professional Advisory Committee. In addition, he is a member of the National Association of Community Health Centers, serving on the health policy and legislative committees as well as the Health Center Controlled Network Task Force. Previously, Henry served as CEO for Outer Cape Health Services in Cape Cod, MA, and held leadership positions at Pacific Gas and Electric Company in San Francisco and Children's Hospital Los Angeles.

Tuttle holds a bachelor's degree in English from Boston College and is a graduate of the UCLA Anderson School Health Care Executive Program.

Sparkle Barnes, MHR

Executive Vice President, CNECT

Chief Strategic Officer, Health Center Partners of Southern California

Sparkle Barnes, MHR, is executive vice president for CNECT and chief strategy officer of its parent company, Health Center Partners of Southern California. Before assuming her current positions, Barnes served as national sales and service manager for CNECT, which she re-joined in 2010. Presently, Barnes sits on the Nursing Committee for Premier, Inc., a leading health care improvement company that operates one of the nation's largest group purchasing organizations and with which CNECT is affiliated.

Previously, Barnes gained valuable skills as a public/private venture program specialist with the Department of Defense, Naval Facilities Engineering Command, Southwest and Pacific, where she assisted in the development, execution and management of projects for Naval and Marine Corps installations. Earlier, she served as relief services assistant for the Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society in Yokosuka, Japan.

Barnes holds a master's degree in human relations from the University of Oklahoma and a bachelor's degree in speech and communications from San Francisco State University.

Lindsay Reital
Senior Vice President, Business Development, CNECT

Lindsay Reital is senior vice president of business development for CNECT. In 2012, she joined CNECT—formerly Council Connections—as the director of sales and marketing. Reital presently sits on the Continuum of Care Committee and various taskforces for Premier, Inc., a leading health care improvement company that operates one of the nation’s largest group purchasing organizations and with which CNECT is affiliated.

Throughout her sales and marketing career, Reital discovered a love for teaching and began conducting sales trainings and eventually health care technology training. She has worked with three group purchasing organizations over the last 15 years; Broadlane, Premier and now CNECT.

Reital holds a bachelor’s degree in international business with a minor in Spanish and marketing from San Diego State University.

###