- The 2022 First Lady's Commemorative Egg has been intricately designed to honor Dr. Jill Biden's commitment to ensuring all Americans have access to a quality education with homages to Delaware, where Dr. Biden has called home since the 1970's.
- The first presentation in 1977 was made to First Daughter Amy Carter.
- Over time and as the America's Egg Board's support of this iconic event grew, the presentation became linked with the First Lady and the White House Easter Egg Roll.
- The First Lady's Commemorative Egg is an actual chicken egg that is handcrafted each year by a specialized egg artist. The design can take many forms and involves a range of mixed media, per the artist's preference. Over the years, eggs have reflected the passions of America's first ladies.
- Presidential pets have appeared on the First Lady's Commemorative Egg, most recently including Bo, the pet of the Obama family, in 2009.
- America's egg farmers are honored to provide this historical legacy in tribute to the First Ladies of the United States.
