Please join us on Facebook for more information on The Kane Files. Fans of The Kane Files (at <http://www.hs.facebook.com/pages/The-Kane-Files/159750977374502>) will be some of the first people to view additional clips, still photography, track the development of the web site, and chat first hand with the director, writer, and actors of the film.

Benjamin Gourley, Director/Writer commented, "I'm excited about holding the World Premiere of The Kane Files at the 2010 San Diego Film Festival. The film looks fantastic and San Diego is the perfect place to premiere an action/thriller like The Kane Files. It's going to be a really fun way to gear up and prepare for The American Film Market in November."

Richard Surber, Nexia's CEO noted, "I am excited that all Nexia shareholders get to be a part of Nexia's first feature length independent film. The Kane Files was filmed exclusively in Utah with the support of the Utah Film Commission. Our team is working on both domestic and foreign distribution, which could yield substantial gains over the coming months."

The Kane Files Synopsis:

Scott Kane (Drew Fuller), a man with a checkered past is trying to live a clean life. When his son Owen falls ill, Kane finds his only option is to turn to Daniel Morgan (William Atherton), the local kingpin of the criminal underworld. Morgan offers to help Kane's family, but double-crosses him. When Morgan tries killing Kane by employing a dirty cop, Jace Olsen (Ethan Embry), Kane escapes from prison to seek his revenge and save his son. With the FBI (William Devane) and Police (Embry) on his tail, Kane must utilize all his deadly skills to save his family and himself.
