IDENTIFY YOUR SKIN TYPE

The first step in choosing a skincare system that works for you is understanding your skin type. If you have dry or sensitive skin, it's best to use richer, more hydrating products. If you have oily or combination skin, stick with lighter, fluid-based formulas that can help balance excess oil. Picking a product that fits your skin type will deliver the best results.

EXPERT TIPS

- PERFORM A PATCH TEST: If you have sensitive skin and are prone to irritation, it's helpful to test new products on the inside of your elbow or wrist prior to applying to your face.
- GIVE IT TIME: It might take your skin a few days to adjust to a new regimen. Stay consistent and stick to it to see beautiful results.
