

Blink Health is giving away

$10 million worth of type 2 diabetes

medications free for one year.

This summer, anyone who joins Blink Health will get the three most commonly prescribed type 2 diabetes medications for free, for a year!

Diabetes in America

Diabetes affects more than 29 million children and adults in the US. That's nearly 1 in 11 Americans.

Type 1 represents 5% of patients, and type 2 represents 95%.

Patients with diabetes have healthcare costs 2.3x those without diabetes

Blink Health is giving away $10 million worth of type 2 diabetes medications free for one year.

Our Commitment

Too many Americans can't afford their common diabetes medications, so this summer Blink Health has decided to give them away for free.

The #TreatType2 program is designed to help the greatest number of people living with diabetes by giving away the three most commonly prescribed medications.

Patients with a prescription for any or all of these three medications (metformin, glipizide and pioglitazone) can receive their Rx for free, for a year.

There are no restrictions, and there is no cost to join Blink Health. All patients have to do is create a free Blink Health account before the $10 million pledge is fully committed.

Our $10 million commitment is based on Blink's cost to purchase the medication and represents savings for consumers of up to $80 million based on the retail prices of these medications for one year.

Learn more on BlinkHealth.com/diabetes

#TreatType2 FAQs

Who is eligible to participate in this program?

Anyone with a prescription for any or all of these three medications (metformin, glipizide and pioglitazone) can receive their Rx for free, for a year. All patients have to do is create a free account on Blink Health. The program is also available to all existing Blink members.

How do I get my medication?

Patients can pick up their medication at their local pharmacy. Blink Health is accepted at over 57,000 pharmacies nationwide, including CVS, Rite-Aid, Target, Walmart and many independent pharmacies.

Does this program cover insulin?

No, this offer applies only to the three most prescribed generic medications for type-2 diabetes. Blink Health is also working on solutions to help lower the price of insulin. Earlier this year, Blink announced a first-of-its-kind access program with Eli Lilly to offer a 40 percent discount on Lilly insulins, including Humalog, one of the most widely prescribed branded insulin medications.

Do I need to have insurance to participate in this program?

No, insurance is not required.

Can I participate if I have commercial insurance or Medicare/Medicaid?

Yes.

What happens at the end of the year? Can I still get my medication through Blink? How much will it cost?

Yes, you can continue to fill your prescriptions through Blink Health and receive discounted pricing on these products.

The current Blink Price for metformin is	$4.95 FOR 30 TABLETS
--	---------------------------------

The current Blink Price for glipizide is	$5.86 FOR 30 TABLETS
--	---------------------------------

The current Blink Price for pioglitazone is	$13.83 FOR 30 TABLETS
---	----------------------------------

Help us spread the word and help all Americans afford their diabetes medications!

#TreatType2