Kichler® Rewrites the Rules for Integrated LED Technology in Professional Landscape Lighting

- Landscape lighting design, installation and service improved for landscape contractors -

INDEPENDENCE, OHIO (October 17, 2017) – Kichler®, a leader in innovative lighting, introduces the 12V LED Accent with Variable Lumen Output (VLO), offering more lumen options while carrying less fixture inventory. Now, it's easier than ever for landscape contractors and installers to design, install and service landscape lighting.

The 12V LED Accent employs VLO technology. Three lumen output choices are offered from a single fixture and can be adjusted electronically with a switching magnet. The magnetic switching sensor is fully encapsulated inside the fixture and protected completely from water ingress. Unlike competitive offerings featuring a mechanical adjustment, the failure risk or long-term reliability concerns are eliminated. In addition, the platform features an integrated 6000V surge protection that guards against power irregularities that can be a hazard to LED landscape lighting.

VLO Adjustment Settings		Small Accent	Large Accent
Level 1	1: Flashes once included switching magnet  Lumen adjustment switch locator	100 lm	*400 lm
Level 2	2: Flashes twice 	*200 lm	600 lm
Level 3	3: Flashes three times 	300 lm	835 lm

“Installers and landscape contractors can now deliver more customized landscape options,” says Scott Pesta, senior product manager, Kichler. “The new 12V LED Accent with VLO allows them to quickly adjust the lighting design during installation for the ideal light output, or adjust as landscape application needs evolve.”

- Three lumen options offered in one fixture
- Two sizes: small (100, 200 and 300 lumens) and large (400, 600 and 835 lumens)
- Two color temperatures: 2700K/3000K
- Three beam angles, including 10-degree (spot), 35-degree (flood), and 60-degree (wide flood)
- 9-15V AC/DC range
- Advanced built-in surge protection (6,000V)
- Fully sealed to protect against water ingress
- Cowls, lenses and louver accessories available
- 15-year warranty

The 12V LED Accent with VLO boasts superior technology and reliability, without compromising the design and aesthetic appearance demanded in a professional landscape product. The fixture family is complete in an Architectural Bronze, Textured Black, or Centennial Brass finish and Textured White finish for 35-degree option. The 12V LED Accent with Variable Lumen Output is backed by an industry-leading, 15-year warranty.
