

A Dozen Facts about the White House Easter Egg Roll

1 Dating back to the 1870s, the White House Easter Egg Roll is a time-honored American tradition.

2 This year's White House Easter "EGGucation" Roll –hosted by the President and the First Lady–is expected to bring over 30,000 attendees together.

3 America's egg farmers are once again donating every egg used for hunting, decorating and the iconic egg roll on the White House South Lawn.

4 Showcasing the versatility of the egg, this year's White House Easter "EGGucation" Roll will spotlight a unique food experience, with the Incredible Egg featured in all food served.

5 Kids and their parents will have an opportunity to participate in an egg roll, egg hunt and egg craft activities and visit American Egg Board's interactive Farm Field Trip experience to learn about an egg's journey from the farm to the plate.

6 NASA will host a special experiment as part of the Egg-ucation classroom activities, including eggs donated from America's egg farmers.

7 The eggs used at the White House Easter "EGGucation" Roll travel nearly 500 miles to get to the South Lawn.

8 16-20 gallons of dye are used to dye the eggs for the White House Easter Egg Roll!

9 The dyed eggs delivered to the South Lawn move through five different processing stations before they're ready for the White House Easter "EGGucation" Roll: Boil, Ice, Dye, Dry and Package.

10 Inspired by Dr. Jill Biden's passion for and commitment to ensuring all Americans have access to a quality education, the 2023 First Lady's Commemorative Egg design presented at the White House Easter Egg Roll captures how children can reach for the stars, one book at a time.

11 The White House East Colonnade will be transformed into a "United States of Possibility" Colonnade of Eggs exhibit this year, featuring kid-designed eggs representing 50 U.S. states and six territories.

12 In the three weeks leading up to Easter and Passover, America's egg farmers are fighting hunger by donating more than 5.5 million eggs to food banks across the country as part of the "Fighting Hunger by the Dozens" initiative.

the
INCREDIBLE EGG